

“Business and the Next Generation Approach to Weather Forecasting from Makuhari”

Complimentary Breakfast Reception for Overseas Companies Sponsored by Chiba Prefecture, JETRO Chiba and MIPRO

Wednesday, Oct. 5, 2011 9:00 – 10:00 AM (before CEATEC opens)

Venue: Room 103, 1st Fl., International Convention Hall, Makuhari Messe

Chiba Prefecture, Chiba Investment Support Center (CISC), JETRO Chiba and MIPRO cordially invite you to our free morning seminar, “Business and the Next Generation Approach to Weather Forecasting from Makuhari”_@CEATEC JAPAN 2011.

The seminar will feature Mr. Tomohiro Ishibashi, director of Weathernews, Inc., the world’s largest weather service company, based in Makuhari. He will speak about taking risks as opportunities, offering value creation and innovative service, and technology regarding weather. Guests will learn about the merits of doing business in Makuhari, Chiba, and as well as company’s “interactive” weather business, which uses supporter participation via mobile phones to predict cloudbursts and disasters.

After the seminar, a networking session will follow. You can speak with Mr. Ishibashi, CISC business advisors and other overseas business people. In a relaxing atmosphere, with coffee and pastries.
